The Printing Press and Prosperity

By RAYMOND PITCAIRN
National Chairman Sentinels of the Republic

Since its first beginnings the Printing Press has been recognized as a prosperity-builder, as well as a contributor to human happiness and understanding.

It has aided our national well-being in many ways. By spreading knowledge of new ideas and new products, by telling the producer how his goods may be improved and the consumer where they may be obtained, it has brought about that wide interchange of ideas and products which is the basis of all progress and prosperity.

For the worker it has boosted the purchasing power of wages by lowering the cost of what he buys. For the seller it has increased profits, even at reduced prices, by greatly expanding his market.

Those are the wealth-creating powers of the Printing Press—when it engages in its normal functions.

But there are theorists who advocate use of the Printing Press as a prosperity-builder in quite a different way.

They want to use it to create money, instead of wealth.

They seek to encourage the belief that if the presses at Washington simply print a lot more dollar bills, without additional reserves to sustain their value, everybody can get rich. They ignore the teachings of experience — that reckless currency inflation boosts all prices, and thereby lowers the purchasing value in every pay envelope.

The two uses should not be confused.

Behind the output of the press which prints our newspapers, our books, our magazines and our advertisements is all the productive strength of the country. History has proved this.

Behind the output of the press which prints recklessly inflated currency is a misleading theory—which breeds bitter disappointment. History has proved that, too.

Annual Pet Show Saturday, May 23

With the spacious Sequoia high school athletic field as the site, this year's Pet Show and Parade on Saturday, May 23, is expected to outdo any yet staged in the six years the Redwood City Humane Society has sponored the annual event, according to Mrs. J. E. Ryan, president of the organization.

Already entries are being made by proud young owners of cats, dogs, rabbits, horses, ponies and other pets. Entry blanks may be secured at any city school or the chamber of commerce office in Redwood City. For each animal entered there will be a fee of 10 cents. Animals must be brought to the grounds by 10:30 a. m. as most of the judging will be done in the forenoon.

Nearly a score of trophies will be awarded to owners of pets and to parade entries. The parade, which will be led again this year by W. H. Moulthrop, well known in San Francisco and peninsula as a parade marshall, will proceed through Redwood City beginning at 1 o'clock, after which the animals entered in the show will be on display.

No admission charge is made to the gala affair, the one big event offered for pet lovers of the southern section of San Mateo county.

Plan Huge New Tax Bill for '37

House Democrats Predict Next Session Will "Act More Intelligently."

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Another large new tax bill will have to be passed next year to pay for the unprecedented spending of the Roosevelt administration, the Democratic majority of the house ways and means committee admitted in reporting on the 803 million dollar corporation surplus tax, drafting of which it had just completed.

In referring to certain provisions of the bill, the 17 Democrats on the committee both startled and amused the Republicans by stating in the report:

"This will take care of the President's request until the next session of congress, which can then act more intelligently in the light of the conditions then existing."

The committee's apparent opinion of its own bill was elaborated upon by speakers of the United States chamber of commerce, meeting in the capital, who characterized it, as well as other Roosevelt tax measures, as "irrational, inequitable and a species of economic suicide for the nation."

Some of the conditions necessitating the "surplus" tax and other taxes to follow next year were indicated by Henry Morgenthau, Jr., secretary of the treasury, appearing before the finance committee of the senate after the bill had been passed by the house. He estimated that the deficit for the fiscal year ending June 30 next would be 5 billion 966 million dollars. This was an amount greater by some 44 million dollars than the administration's total expenditures for the fiscal year up to the end of April.

Du Pont Cash Was Okeh When New Deal Got It

Washington.—When does du Pont money become "good" money? Answer: After it has gone through the purification process and found its way into the Democratic campaign chest to keep company with the shekels of the money changers, who, presumably, have been driven from the temple.

Data furnished the United States senate by Senator Hastings (Delaware) list the contributions of the du Ponts and their associate, John J. Raskob, both before and after the nomination of President Roosevelt. They show that Mr. Roosevelt wholeheartedly accepted the active support and financial aid of the men he now denounces for their activities in the Liberty League.

THE CRACKER BARREL

News item—In the first three months of 1936 Americans imported $4,384,000 more goods than were exported whereas in the corresponding quarter for 1935 we exported $7,412,000 more than imported. These figures include farm products.

"Come and get it," cried Good Neighbor Roosevelt and they did—from all over the world!

Columnist Paul Mallon has let the secret out: Dr. Stanley High, widely heralded as the founder of the Good Neighbor league (supposedly organized by independent social workers to support Roosevelt in the campaign), is a paid member of the publicity staff of the Democratic National committee.

City Council Holds Interesting Session

At the meeting of the City Council held last Tuesday evening Mayor James E. Cooper named Mrs. Emma Stribling to fill a vacancy on the planning commission. City Treasurer Frances E. Maloney appointed her daughter, Miss Kathryn Maloney, as deputy treasurer.

At the suggestion of Councilman Irving Dunn, the council resolver to confer with the planning commission in order to ascertain its fact-findings on the problem of obtaining a municipal water distribution system. The planning commission will be asked to choose a convenient date.

Upon the recommendation of the planning commission that federal aid be sought for a resurvey of the city which would establish and monument street and property lines, the council authorized City Engineer Bert J. Mehl to draft a request for WPA funds to support the work.

Building Inspector John B. Glunz was authorized to furnish a treasurer's office in the city hall at a cost not to exceed $45. Two bids for the work have been submitted.

A $5000 surety bond for Mrs. Maloney, recently elected city treasurer, was approved by the council, which also ordered the purchase of robbery insurance to protect such sums of municipal money as should be kept in the city hall or should be in the treasurer's possession. The new treasurer was to have received the books from retiring treasurer J. Wm. Ryan this week.

Ryan's report on the city's finances as fo May 1 was accepted by the council. According to the report the city has a balance of $11,640.23 in the general fund; $775.51 in the street fund; and $652.99 in the special gas tax street improvement fund.

Mrs. John G. Rapp of San Francisco will occupy the Charles McCormick house in Atherton this summer while her husband and two daughters, Claribel and Joan, are touring Europe. They will sail on the Queen Mary June 24. John Rapp Jr., who is attending Thacher, will come down June first with Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Scott and their son Kenneth Jr., to spend the summer with his mother.

Mrs. Slemons Opens Real Estate Office

Mrs. Alice Slemons, who has operated a real estate office from her home in Atherton, has opened an office in the business section of this city from which she will in the future conduct her business.

The office is located at 1077 El Camino Real, in the Artino Building, and is one of the most artistic and beautifully fitted up offices of its kind in the state. The floor is carpeted with a rich carpeting, and the desks and chairs at once give patrons of Mrs. Slemons a feeling of being at home. This real estate office is really an attraction to the city and promises to be a large factor in the city's growth.

Asociated with Mrs. Slemons are Mrs. Earl Hook and Mrs. Moore, both wide-awake business women, who will meet patrons with a smile and a pleasant word.

The years that Mrs. Slemons has conducted this business from her home, and the magnitude to which it has grown speak volumes for the reliability and courteousness of the service rendered.

Menlo Park business circles wish for Mrs. Slemons, all the success that it is possible to attain.

The Chicago firm's bid was more than double that of a Los Angeles firm.

Measure Provides Local Control Of Liquor Laws

Return of a large measure of control in the administration of state liquor laws to local communities and re-establishment of the State Board of Equalization as a commission handling only tax laws, was recommended today by Senator Ralph Swing of San Bernardino, chairman of the Senate Liquor Investigating Committee.

Senator Swing, whose legislative committee has studied liquor control problems for more than a year, urged public support of the new Alcoholic Beverage Control Act, which will be submitted to California voters at the General Election. The act creates a State Alcoholic Beverage Commission to have general supervision over liquor control, and constitutes city council and boards of supervisors as local liquor control boards.

"It became apparent early in our research that two main situations must be corrected," said Senator Swing. "One was the fact that local communities deserved a greater share of jurisdiction in administration of state liquor laws, and the second that the State Board of Equalization had too many functions to give the time required in consideration of the problems of liquor control.

"The results of our studies have been incorporated in the initiative amendment which the voters will pass upon at the November election. I feel it is imperative that this initiative become law.

"One of the most mportant provisions of the new act will enable local alcoholic beverage boards, composed of city councils and boards of supervisors, to make recommendations on the issuance of licenses and summarily suspend existing licenses in the event of serious violations. This will go a long way toward giving local communities the type of control they desire."

Senator Swing also emphasized that the act will give Southern California an additional member on the State Board of Equalization, an adjustment which should have been made years ago.

INFLATE INNER TUBE

Before mounting a tire the inner tube should always be partially inflated so that it will nott become wrinkled or twisted.

Under-inflated tubes may become caught under the beads of the tire casing or edge of the tire flap and become pinched when air pressure is applied. A pinched tube generally goes flat at once, although in some cases they may run several miles before this happens.

RADIO INTERFERENCE

Radio experts report that static, or electrical interference, sometimes develops in a car radio as a result of certain parts of the car, other than the spark plugs, accumulating charges of electricity. Such charges produce a spark which creates radio interference.

RENEWING POWER

A properly done valve grinding job is one of the best ways to renew engine power and reduce fuel consumption. Best results are obtained by having valves ground every 10,000 miles.

CHECK FAN BELT

The fan belt should be examined occasionally and adjusted as required. The belt should be tight enough to drive the fan without noticeable slippage, but not so tight as to place a strain on the fan bearing.

WEAK CONDENSER

A weak condenser will cause irregular ignition and also tend to increase burning or pitting of the contact points.

RADIATOR INSECTS

Bees, butterflies and other obstructions wedgeed in the radiator reduce cooling efficiency by cutting down the volume of air. The simplest way to remove them is to apply air pressure from the rear of the radiator. Use of wire or any sharp instument should be ienced mechanic.

REMOVING GUM

Chewing gum can be removed from the car upholstery by moistening with carbon tetrachloride and then working it off with a dull knife.

CLEANING SPOTS

When cleaning spots from upholstery there is less danger of spreading if the cleaning solvent is first applied just outside the area of the spots, then rubbed with a circular motion toward the center.

Whether sixty or sixteen, there is in every human being's heart the lure of wonder, the sweet amazement of the stars and star-like things and thoughts, the undaunted challenge of events, the unfailing, childlike appetite for what next, and the joy of the game of living. You are as young as your faith, as old as your doubts; as young as your self-confidence, as old as your fear; as young as your hope, as old as your despair.

In the central place of your heart is an evergreen tree; its name is LOVE. So long as it flourishes you are young. When it dies, you are old. In the central place of your heart is a wireless station. So long as it receives messages of beauty, hope, cheer, grandeur, courage and power from God and from your fellow man, so long are you young.

Taxes Rise 1½ Times; Income Drops One-Third

Washington.—How taxes, due largely to spending by the Roosevelt administration, have become 1½ times what they were in 1928, while income has dwindled to only about two-thirds of what it was then, was revealed by Sen. Daniel O. Hastings of Delaware in a senate speech in which he accused the President and Postmaster General Farley of making false statements about the prosperity of the country.

"In the year 1928 the national income was 80 billion dollars," he said, "or about $640 for every man, woman and child in America. The cost of government for the fiscal year 1928 was 3 billion dollars, or a little over $24 per capita.

"In the year 1935 the national income was approximately 54 billion 500 million dollars, or $436 per capita, while the cost of government, it is estimated, will be about 7 billion, 500 million dollars, or $60 per capita.

"So, in 1928, if each person paid his proportionate share of the taxes, he would have $606 left. In 1935, after he paid his proportionate share of the taxes, he had only $376 left."

Rents Land at 50c an Acre; AAA Pays Him $7

Washington. — Federal bureaus here disclosed that Thomas Campbell, known as the "Montana wheat king," received $7 an acre from the Agricultural Adjustment administration for not raising wheat on land which he rented from the Indians at "bargain" rates, probably 50 cents to $1.50 an acre. Campbell arranged his rentals through the Indian bureau.

Altogether, Campbell received more than $50,000 for not planting wheat. His checks from the AAA indicated a per acre yield of about 7 bushels of wheat, from which it has been estimated he received approximately $1 a bushel for the wheat he did not produce during three years.

Among the other disclosures were payments of more than 1 million dollars each to two sugar growers, one in Hawaii and one in Florida, and a payment of only a little less than a million to a sugar firm in Puerto Rico.

Depends Upon Who Does It

Bellefontaine, Ohio. — The WPA approved expenditure of $502 for a steam heating plant for the fire department here, with sponsors chipping in $776. Tired of waiting for red tape to unwind, the firemen went ahead and built it themselves —at a cost of $300.

Imports From Canada Grow

St. Paul, Minn.—Up to April 9 of this year 45,036 Canadian beef cattle had been received at South St. Paul, as compared with 34,971 for the same period of 1935, before the reciprocal trade treaty with Canada. The increase is 28 per cent.

TWA Feels Texas Rush

DALLAS, Texas—Transcontinental-Western Airways officials report a tremendous traffic increase on their cross-country flights due to the Texas Centennial Exposition at Dallas. Although the Exposition, a $25,000,000 World's Fair, does not open until June 6, the pre-exposition business already is having effect, TWA heads said. The line has direct "feeder" connection to Dallas, their coast-to-coast route.

Monster to Live Again

DALLAS, Texas—Mechanized replicas of life-size prehistoric monsters will wage a battle to the death in the exhibit of the Sinclair Oil Company at the Texas Centennial Exposition which opens here June 6 and continues through November The giant monsters will lunge, snap, growl and bellow at each other as a battery of electric motors propel their intricate mechanisms The entire exhibit will be in the open

The local Townsend Club will hold a card party in Central School on Thursday, May 21.

James T. O'Keefe attended the funeral of Mrs. J. Sullivan in San Francisco on Tuesday.

Long Live Sauerkraut!

SAUERKRAUT has survived a world war and a drought. Long live sauerkraut! Can you remember when boys in khaki were kissing their girls good-bye, flags were waving, and if you wanted to go home and eat a quiet dish of sauerkraut you had a guilty conscience even if you called it by its war-time nom de plume—Liberty Cabbage?

Cabbage Carries On

And in more recent days, with the effects of the drought still with us, have you sometimes wondered how the cabbage would fare, and how you would fare without an occasional dish of sauerkraut? Well, cabbage is a sturdy vegetable, and enough of it has come through to assure us that our frankfurters will not be lonesome, nor our health diets lacking for sauerkraut. If the fit alone survive, sauerkraut is most fit.

But don't think of it as a boon companion alone for such foods as frankfurters and pig's feet. There are countless ways to serve this delicious health food, and some of them are designed to please persons who go on a much lighter diet than these meats suggest. Here is a sauerkraut dish which will make you forget wars and droughts. It is a nice luncheon main dish when served with crisp bacon slices.

A Tested Recipe

Creamed Sauerkraut: Sauté three tablespoons sliced onions and four tablespoons green pepper in three tablespoons fat until the onions become pale yellow. Add three tablespoons flour, and stir until smooth. Add two cups of milk slowly, stirring until thick and creamy. Season to taste with salt and pepper, add two cups canned sauerkraut and heat thoroughly. This serves six persons.*

Mrs. Falk Saved From Death In Fire

Quick work by a telephone operator in tracing a call early this morning saved the home of Ray G Falk on Almendral avenue at Atherton from destruction by fire and brought police officers hurrying to aid Mrs. Falk, who, partially overcome by smoke, had attempted to summon the Atherton police department. Company officials named Mrs. Margaret Kirstie of the Redwood City exchange as the quick-witted operator.

Alone in the house last night, Mrs. Falk awakened choking at 2 o'clock in a smoke-filled room. Dialing the police from the telephone at her bedside, she collapsed as the connection was made and Chief Farrell could hear nothing but incoherent sounds. Within a few minutes Mrs. Kirstie traced the call and notified Farrell, who sent out a radio warning to Atherton and Menlo police patrol cars.

Officers Tom Kearney of this city and LeRoy Hubbard of Atherton responded and found Mrs. Faulk unconscious in the garden of her home after having crawled through a window. The officers administered first aid to Mrs. Falk and held the flames in check with a garden hose until the local fire department arived.

Minor damage was done to the home.

Farmers Organizing Permanent Associations

Farmers throughout California are preparing to organize permanent county agricultural conservation associations for administering locally the farm program authorized by the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act adopted by Congress in March of this year.

Community meetings will be held at which a community committee of three members and one alternate will be elected. One of three regular community committeemen will be made chairman.

The chairman of all such community committees in a county will constitute the county board of directors of the county agricultural conservation associations. This county board of directors will elect a county committee of three members, it being assumed that every effort will be made to elect to this county committee persons who as a group represent fairly the interests of the farmers in all parts of the county.

The county board of directors will elect this county committee at a meeting to be held after the community meetings have been held. The county board of directors will draw up plans for holding "community work sheet sign-up days."

On the community work sheet sign-up day, all farmers who wish to obtain assistance in making out the work sheet showing their eligibility for participation in the benefits of the program can come to the designated place and secure such assistance.

Any person who could become entitled to a grant under the provisions of the 1936 Agricultural Conservation program in connection with farming operations in 1936 on a farm located in the county, shall become a member of the county agricultural conservation association on signing the register of members at the community meetings. Any person who fails to file a properly executed work sheet for 1936 in the time to be fixed for such filing, will thereupon cease to be a member of the association.

The county board of directors will elect a secretary of the county association, who, it is assumed, will soon become so familiar with the principles and details of the program that he will be able to assist all members of the association throughout the county.

The farm advisors in the various counties, representing the Agricultural Extension Service of the University of California, will be available for assistance which the county associaton may ask them to give. Director B. H. Crocheron of the Extension Service is keeping in touch with the Agricultural Adjustment Administration at Washington, D. C., which was charged by Congress with the duty of administering the new farm program.

The Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act under which the new farm program will be carried out was adopted by Congress after the processing tax provisions of the Agricultural Adjustment Act were declared invalid by the U. S. Supreme Court in the Hoosac Mills decision of January 6, 1936.

The new farm program provides that the U. S. Secretary of Agriculture may make grants of money to farmers who adopt practices which will conserve the soil as the fundamental resource of the American nation.

Miss Clara Bolei, principal of the Fremont school in this city was elected secretary-treasurer of the Principal's organization of San Mateo county at a meetin gheld early this week. This comes in recognition of her very efficient work in the school department.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Paletti of this city spent the past week end with friends at Escalon. Mr. Paletti is secretary of the local Italian Family Club.

Recent payments of rewards in two more instances of arrest and conviction of road sign vandals is announced by the California State Automobile Association. A statement by the motorists organization commented that in both cases the offenders had committed deliberate mutilation and destruction of road signs, apparently heedless of the fact that they were acting against the general welfare and creating positive danger to motorists by removal of safeguards. Both offenders were youthful, one a boy of 16 whose case was certified to Juvenile Court and the other a young man in his early twenties.

The most flagrant vandalism was that charged to the older offender, who had removed several guard posts, a railroad crossing sign, a stop sign, and a directional sign on the Oroville-Quincy road. One of the signs was thrown into a lake. On information supplied by O. F. Georges, maintenance superintendent in that district for the Division of Highways, the offender was arrested, pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to six months in jail by Judge Harry Hills.

The case of the juvenile offender occurred in Mariposa County, where he was arrested by Traffic Officer Charles Ellingham for shooting up a highway route sign with a rifle. Judge J. J. Trabucco of the Superior Court, sitting as Juvenile Court judge, imposed a fine of $5 and, in the words of a spectator, "gave the boy a lecture that was enough to peel his hide off."

Mrs. Frances Maloney of this city was a guest at the reception given by Vendome Parlor No. 100, Native Daughters of the Golden West, to the grand president, Mrs. Anne C. Thuesen, Wednesday night at San Jose.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Crane had as their house guests over last week end, their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Crane and their daughter.
